

Make the Connection

Technicuff
We Can Take The Pressure

Pushing a single blood pressure cuff transducer tube against a single safety connector at a slight angle will allow the tube to easily slide over the safety connector.

The tubes should be pushed together until they hit the purple bumpers.